Thus the Sydney Bulletin:—New South Wales judges were called upon the other week to deal with one or two more spotted attorneys. A feature of this rascally age is the almost absolute extinction of that class of legal practitioners, known as the "family solicitor"—a confidant to whom a client might safely trust his life. Trust has now so far decayed, that plenty of men who lend money on mortgage pay the amount over personally to the mortgagee, and receive the interest thereon direct, rather than let their lawyers handle it. Such things are significant indeed of the decadence of legal reputations. Trust-moneys now-a-days are going into the hands of respectable corporations, from which people have at least an even chance of getting back their cash. Looking at the long, mawkish list of respectable and even godly Australian attorneys who have cleaned out their clients, and then cut their own throats, or gone to gaol, or scooted to Valparaiso—each an equally unsatisfactory conclusion from a disinterested point of view—it is a marvel of human gullibility how anyone ever trusts his worldly fortunes to a single individual while there is a Trustee and Executors Co. to deal with.

We don't think the extraordinary communication referring to an alleged son headed "Couldn't Boss the Lot" is of any interest to anybody, and we haven't space time to-day to do more than hastily peruse it. If we find, on careful investigation, that it means anything, the poetical Office Goat will be let loose for all he's worth.

THE N. C. Daily News of December 20th publishes the following with reference to Mr. O'Connor's audience with the Emperor of China:—

We have learnt with much pleasure since our paper was issued this morning, that the circumstances of Mr. O'Connor's audience of the Emperor were in every way satisfactory. The Cheng Kuang Tien, in which he was received, is in the private gardens, in the part of the palace in which the Emperor is now actually residing, and Mr. O'Connor entered the palace grounds through the big official gate, not through the smaller door which was used for the Austro-Hungarian Minister last year.

The Tientsin Yamen did not even suggest that Mr. O'Connor should be received in the Kuang Ko. We have been favoured with the following copy of Mr. O'Connor's speech to the Emperor, which was graciously received and acknowledged:—

SIRE,—I have the honour to deliver to your Imperial Majesty the letter by which the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Empress of India, has designed to accredit me in the character of Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of your Imperial Majesty. My august sovereign has sent me to fulfil the mission to devote my best efforts to foster and confirm the friendly political and commercial relations which so happily exist between the two great empires. Assisted by the gracious good will of your Imperial Majesty and the cordial co-operation of your Ministers it will be my earnest endeavour to attain this end. Sire, my august sovereign has charged me to be the faithful interpreter of her sincere regard and of her ardent wishes for your Imperial Majesty's long and prosperous reign.

His was telling his wife about a small game of poker in which he had lost forty-five cents. "It was the worst game I ever played," he exclaimed, still angry over it, "and I got to mid I couldn't see."

"What did you do then, dear," she smiled sweetly, "go it blind?"

DELAGLIO, a Hebrew, who is alleged to have robbed Dr. Leon Prato of $1,800 worth of pearls, belonging to the Osaka Boshu Kaisha, were totally destroyed by fire this morning with great loss of life, over eighty operatives having been burnt to death.
